

businesses that have sought information or assistance from the CPSC's small business ombudsman; and (6) other individuals CPSC is providing information to, such as those through the CPSC's Office of Information and Public Affairs.

The information will be used by the CPSC Office of Planning and Evaluation to prepare sections of the agency's annual performance report (required by the GPRA). This information will provide measures of the quality and effectiveness of agency efforts related to three goals in its strategic plan (informing the public, industry services, and customer satisfaction). Also, the information will be used to guide improvements in initiatives related to the "Conversation with America" program. If this information is not collected, the Commission would not have useful measures of its effectiveness in providing useful services to consumers and others, and information necessary to guide program development would not be available.

B. Estimated Burden

The surveys and other information collection activities would be conducted by various methods, including contractors or in-house staff. They may be by (1) amending CPSC's web site's comment page, "Talk to Us/Tell Us What You Think," to solicit feedback on the level of satisfaction with CPSC's services, (2) the periodic use of brief customer service follow-up queries (on-line) with samples of telephone hotline callers, (3) surveying a sample of firms using the Fast-Track Product Recall Program to assess their views and suggestions for improvements in the service aspects of the program, (4) including customer comment cards within the pages of the Consumer Product Safety Review, and (5) conducting mail surveys of state partners and samples of customers of the National Injury Information Clearinghouse. Fewer than 10 customer surveys or information collection activities a year would be conducted using this clearance.

The Commission staff estimates the number of annual respondents to be about 1,550. Among the anticipated sources and annual respondents are:

Sources
Web site	500
CPS Review	100
Recall Round-ups	100
Hotline	300
National Injury Information Clearinghouse	300
Small Businesses	100
State Partners	50

Fast Track Product Recall Program	100
	1,550

The average time needed for each response is estimated at two minutes. Thus, the annual time burden would be about 3,100 ($2 \times 1,550$) minutes or 51.7 hours. Using \$12 an hour (the average hourly wage for all private industry workers, according to the 1996 edition of the Statistical Abstract of the U.S.) times 51.7 hours, the cost would be negligible (a total of about \$620 per year).

For CPSC staff, the average time needed to process each response is estimated at five minutes. Thus, this information collection activity would require about 7,750 ($5 \times 1,550$) minutes or 129.2 hours per year. Based on the average hourly Commission salary of \$37.37, the 129.2 hours of CPSC staff time would be valued at about \$4,828.

C. Requests for Comments

The Commission solicits written comments from all interested persons about the proposed surveys. The Commission specifically seeks information relevant to the following topics:

- Whether the surveys described above are necessary for the proper performance of the Commission's functions, including whether the information would have practical utility;
- Whether the estimated burden of the proposed collections of information are accurate;
- Whether the quality, utility, and clarity of the information to be collected could be enhanced; and
- Whether the burden imposed by the collection of information could be minimized by use of automated, electronic or other technological collection techniques, or other forms of information technology.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On June 2, 1997, at 62 FR 29714, the Consumer Product Safety Commission published notice of four new systems of records, including one designated as CPSC-7 and one designated as CPSC-18 in the mistaken belief that two no longer active systems of records with those same designations had been removed and their designations reserved.
